Lab Decision Disappoints Locals

Disappointment and some resentment here met the Tuesday announcement that the Texas A&M board of directors have decided to locate a million dollar veterinary diagnostic laboratory at the Amarillo Medical Center rather than on the West Texas State University campus.

Jim Lindsey, news information director for A&M, told The News the directors voted with little discussion to locate the diagnostic lab in the west part of Amarillo rather than in Canyon. In effect, the directors authorized state funding for construction of the lab on land to be donated at the medical center by the Amarillo Area Foundation.

News of the directors' decision surprised, and disappointed WTSU officials who were almost confident the lab would be located on the local campus.

Most disappointed was Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of the WTSU school of agriculture, who has worked for several years with A&M officials pursuing the location of the lab at the WTSU site.

"I was very surprised and disappointed," Smallwood said.

Smallwood said he had learned earlier that WTSU's proposal, which was presented a small group of men who visited Amarillo and Canyon last month viewing sites, was "highly rated."

"I really don't know," he responded when asked what had happened.

Part of his disappointment was rooted in the fact that the Amarillo Area Foundation made only a courtesy proposal for donating of land.

That, too, was at the root of the disappointment expressed by WTSU vice president Dr. Kenneth Laycock.

Laycock said he understood the foundation's proposal was not really a proposal made in earnest.

"I was stunned" by the news, he said. "I just don't know what to think."

He noted that as of late Wednesday no officials at WTSU had been notified officially of the A&M board's decision.

Rep. Bryan Poff, who carried a bill through the Texas House last spring calling for placement of the lab on the local campus, told The News he too has yet to be contacted on the board's decision.

Poff said he felt the medical center site was the most unlikely plot for the lab.

Poff, during the last legislative session introduced a bill which would

5 Indicted, Conspiracy Is Charged

Five Amarillo men were indicted by the Randall County Grand Jury after a marathon 9-hour session Monday on charges of conspiring to possess and sell an amount of marijuana which could have brought as much as $100,000 on the streets.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen said indictments were returned charging two counts against Larry Stephenson, James Judge, Reginald Bassett, Dan O'Conner and Earnest Walker.

Walker, 37, Amarillo stock broker and operator of Amarillo Dragway in north Randall County, waited in the Canyon courthouse throughout much of the day Monday for the grand jury's action.

The five are charged specifically with conspiring to possess an amount of marijuana exceeding four ounces and conspiring to sell the marijuana.

Dowlen said the state alleges that two Amarillo men were told they could purchase a large amount of marijuana near the Mexican border on a half-cash and half-credit basis.

Each man decided to try to raise money to make the purchase, Dowlen said, and about Prospective linemen try their bull-headedness on other prospects during two-a-day drills for the Canyon High School Eagles this week. Various drills are staged for the young hopefuls to condition and give the coaches a chance to size up their team members. First scrimmage for the Eagles will be Monday afternoon.

60 Locals To Receive WTSU Degrees Friday

Sixty Canyon students will receive degrees from West Texas State University during summer convocation which begins at 8 p.m. Friday in the Amarillo civic center auditorium.

Degrees will be conferred by Dr. James P. Cornette, chancellor, and Dr. Lloyd Watkins, president.

There will be no commencement address.

Due to the scheduling of convocation just a day after classes ended for the WTSU second summer term, graduates who cross the stage Friday night will not actually receive a degree as such, according to Dr. Ray Maizahn, academic vice president.

Maizahn said timing of the ceremony meant that final grades for all graduates would not be available in time for the convocation. Those participating Friday night whose grades meet standards for graduation can pick up their actual degrees at the university next week.

Canyon graduates being awarded the Bachelor of Business Administration degree are Richard E. Bailey, Donald Wayne Benton, Vicki Calloway, Geraldine Vaughn Gerald, William B. Hinson, Robert Patton Jarrett III, Dolores Ann Williams, William Mark Womble, Gary Wayne Brummett, Ray G. Carrasco, James Michael Lovelady and Dwight D. Crawford.

Bachelor of Science degrees go to Mary M. Adair, Eddie Gene Baker, Murphy Gail Bizzell, Billy Joe Bullard, Pamela Richardson

Butler, Donna Noble Caughron, Donna Dufek Cavrich, Randall Gene Dulin, Jeanne Beth Ezeil, Nancy Jacob Gant, Edgar Lee Garner and Phyllis A. Blansett Goettsch.

Others earning a Bachelor of Science degree are Frances Sue Hair, Eugene Patrick Hatcher, Cathey Jane Horton, David Thomas Hughes, Robert B. Koger, Charles Alfred McClain II, Elizabeth A. Nelson, Lois Marie Looney Parker, Richard Robert Powell, Frances Hopper Rogers, Dan Howard Vial Jr., Pam Prince Wanamaker, Sharon H. Warren, Benny Carl Watson, Kathy Rene Wisniewski and Deborah Carol Johnston Grantham.

Hospital Board Is Seeking Bids To Build $1.6 Million Facility

Members of the board of the South Randall County Hospital District will be holding their breaths for the next month as they await opening bids for construction of a new hospital in Canyon.

After three years of work, board members authorized the advertisement for bids for the hospital construction at a special meeting Monday night, just two days after they had received word that the final go-ahead was approved by the state department of health. Bids are to be opened at 2 p.m. Sept. 13 at the Canyon community center.

To be constructed is a one-story, 50-bed hospital of concrete and masonry with about 36,000 square feet of finished floor space and about 7000 square feet of unfinished space.

The advertisement seeks bids on a lump-sum basis for general construction, for sterilizers, surgical lights and surgery cabinets, for kitchen equipment, for prefinished cabinets and for Enviro-care module units for the patient rooms.

Board members have set a projected price on the new facility of $1.6 million, but are unabashedly worried over rising costs in the construction industry.

"How's the building situation?" Board chairwoman Lois Hull asked local builder and board member Bill Sternberg.

"It's tough," he responded. "I'd really like to know how much we could have saved if we could have let bids three years ago on that day we met in the First Presbyterian Church — or even two months ago."

Sternberg said prices for fixtures and for steel are steep.

Architect Bill O'Connell of Austin has told board members they will be hard-pressed to construct the type hospital designed for $1.6 million.

The board approved a financial report as of the Commissioner Paul Lindsey, right, shows commissioners pictures of a road in a Randall County addition. The road, Lindsey said, does not meet county standards. Commissioners also discussed Monday what to do with their federal revenue sharing money.

Decision On Courthouse Annex Construction Expected By Sept.

A decision on whether Randall County commissioners will build a new South Amarillo courthouse annex or simply remodel the old structure could be forthcoming as early as month's end.

That was the indication Monday as commissioners discussed how to allocate the $100,000 they are to receive this year in federal revenue sharing funds and as they eyed an anticipated deficit in their 1974 general fund budget.

Commissioners also took action Monday to have specifications drawn up for county developers who build roads in their developments and then ask the county to assume maintenance responsibility for those roads. That action followed a lengthy presentation by Commissioner Paul Lindsey, and dissenting words from one developer.

County Auditor Betty Hodges told commissioners they can expect to receive $100,314 through the federal government this year. They have already received $24,000 of that amount, she said.

"What do you want to do with it?" Judge Woody Pond asked, noting that the commissioners' intentions must be relayed to the U.S. Treasury before the money is spent.

Commissioner Bill Butler suggested that since commissioners "are toying with looking at various places for land," a decision on how the money is to be spent be deferred until the end of the month.

"By the end of August, we ought to have some idea on this other," Butler said.

Commissioners in open session have previously discussed whether they will build a new annex or will remodel the current annex at 36th and Bowie in South Amarillo.

They have indicated they are eyeing the purchase of property to construct a new courthouse, but have not indicated where the property is located.

Mrs. Hodges pointed out that some of the revenue sharing funds might be used to bolster a lagging general fund in the 1974 county budget. A preliminary budget worksheet given commissioners indicates the general fund is about $30,000 short.

Funds in the road and bridge fund total more than $300,000 surplus, but because the road and bridge fund is a fund which cannot by law be used for any other purpose, the money cannot be transferred to the general fund.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher suggested that revenue sharing money might also be well used in new road construction in the county.

The subject of roads in the county took up a majority of the 2 1/2 hour session Monday for commissioners as W.H. Dwight, developer, appeared again before commissioners seeking their advance approval of the roads he plans to construct in McCormick

University Plan Would Aid Aged

A venture into a new area of education was approved last weekend by West Texas State University regents, a venture which officials say could develop a new thrust for the university in community involvement.

The regents approved the submission to the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University system of a proposal for a study on how a continuing education program could be worked for persons in the Panhandle area who are 65 years of age or older.

WTSU's role in the program for the elderly is actually just part of a larger research effort funded by the federal government through the coordinating board, according to Dr. Kenneth Laycock, vice president for planning and development.

The university, under the proposal submitted, will spend about four months determining the needs of the elderly in the Panhandle and devising a program of continuing education to meet those needs.

Funding of about $5000 would come through the coordinating board for the study.

Although funding will end as of Jan. 1, 1974, Laycock said it is hoped the university's developed program will be implemented for the elderly on a permanent basis — if the need is proven to exist.

"What kinds of needs do the elderly have that might come under the umbrella of continuing education?" Laycock asked rhetorically. The study will answer that question.

Hopefully, he said, a model program will be developed for the Issue Features D. Kent Family

Waiting for school days to roll in is the David Kent family, featured in their back-to-school preparations in this week's issue of The News. Pictured, seated, are Mrs. Eileen Kent and son Trey. Standing are David Kent, WTSU tennis coach, and daughter Tanya. Up in the tree is young Todd Kent.

Everybody knows about West Texas State University tennis coach David Kent's formidability on the courts in Missouri Valley action, but few realize that the man boasts another triple-threat team at home.

David and Eileen Kent — and their triple team consisting of Tanya, Trey and Todd — are featured in this issue of The News as this year's Back-To-School Family.

The Kents are a youthful, athletic couple. Tanya is a pretty blond junior at Canyon High School; Todd, a tree-climbing, tennis-playing eighth grader at Canyon Junior High School; and Trey, an up-and-coming tennis standout going into fourth grade at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

The Kents take the oft-quoted maxim "The family that plays together stays together," quite seriously. All members of the family except Tanya are tennis enthusiasts, and Tanya, as a UHS cheerleader, stays on the sidelines rooting them on.

Before the family gets into the routine of back-to-school life, they'll be going on a short excursion to watch a tennis tournament at St. Stephen's College in Austin.

CANYON RIM

A good secretary is a businessman's greatest asset. They don't get older. They just get better.

Joan Castleman has been my right hand for 10 years now and the time of the year I dread most is when she takes her vacation.

Joan came to the Canyon News in the spring of 1963. She had had one previous place of employment. She had worked for a friend of mine, Hudson Davis of Davis Chevrolet in Borger.

The Canyon News office was a mess when she arrived and she soon set it straight. Within months she had a feel for the business and has pretty well been running the front office since.

She has been a big sister to almost everyone who has ever been employed here and has befriended many of the scores of college students who put out The Prairie in our shop.

Joan is a lot like the bank. In her bookkeeping she seldom makes a mistake. Usually she is the first voice you hear when you dial 655-7121 — the main number for the News office. She has a vast general knowledge of the community and dispenses information throughout the working day.

She has power of attorney to make publisher's affidavits and only three times in her 10-year span has it been necessary for us to rerun legal notices because of mistakes in publication. Almost never does an attorney publishing legal notices in the News have to wait on her affidavit of publication.

She and her husband, Brad, are the two gentlest, kindest people I have ever known. I take this opportunity in her absence to say for myself and the News staff: "Joan, we love you. Quit taking vacations. You're gone too long."

The temperance folks will be glad to hear this. I understand beer is being rationed to distributors. Brewers complain that they are having a hard time finding people to work.

Also there is some difficulty in getting cans and bottles to put the brew in.

Shortages of gasoline and beer should depress the instance of drunk driving.

Naturally I've been taking some flak over Watergate because I supported Richard Nixon last year.

I am not defending either Nixon or the Republicans who took part in the Watergate caper, as it has come to be known.

If Nixon is a burglar as the investigators are trying to prove, let him be punished in any manner that is constitutional.

What makes me sick is that the investigators include some of the most devious people who ever set foot in the halls of congress. I've already named a few including Presidential Aspirant Ted Kennedy who, if justice were done, should be making little rocks out of big rocks in a Massachusetts penal institution.

Herman (pronounced Hummon in Georgian) Talmage used state police to seize the office of governor in Georgia back in 1947 when his father who had been elected died before taking office.

Herman has been one of the star Watergate investigators.

I enjoy going to the university library. While thumbing through 1947 issues of Time Magazine, I ran across a picture of my old boss from Air Force days.

I was a radio operator working out of the American Embassy in Ankara in early 1946. Edwin Wilson was ambassador then in what was the diplomatic hot spot of the world.

Wilson would be 80 now. I remember him as one of the world's gentlemen. He never had a party at the embassy that I wasn't invited.

I was treated, not like an army non-com but like visiting royalty. He had a way of making everyone like him.

Wilson and his first secretary thought we should have called Russia's hand and used all our power to free Eastern Europe from communism.

He was a man with lots of guts. He could be hard as nails and was capable of making on the spot decisions that were invariably right.

It was delightful running across the picture of a man who in spite of the short time I knew him has had a profound influence on my life.

Band Practice Begins For CHS Musicians

School doesn't formally open until Aug. 22, but already the crash of cymbals and the umph-umph of tubas resounds from the band room of Canyon High School, where practice is already underway for the 1973-74 Eagle Band.

In rehearsals which got underway Aug. 6, band director J.W. King has concentrated his efforts on the sophomore band members, who'll begin their first year in high school marching band in the fall.

According to King, the band camps that many of the young musicians attended over the summer months have served as an invaluable tool for sophomores in making the transition from junior high to high school band.

This year's Eagle Band will be made up of 90 musicians, with the Stage Band comprised of 20 members, according to King.

There'll be several new band marching formations this year for the season's football games, reported King, as well as many of the old favorites.

In rehearsals this week, King reported that the sophomore band members were "catching on very well" to the rigors of marching.

The repertoire for the Eagle Band will include several new tunes including "Quality Plus," a new arrangement of "Sweet Georgia Brown" and "Crown Imperial," "Sing," "Crocodile Rock," "Well Get It," "Garland Entree," and "Little Brown Jug."

On the pop side, the Eagle Band will perform Richard Harris' "Sixties Hit," "MacArthur Park." The percussion section is spotlighted in another new tune, "Drums of America." Another Top Forty favorite among the students will be "Fever."

The CHS Stage Band will have a new look this year, with uniforms consisting of a white blazer and turtleneck sweater, and black slacks. A purple Eagle emblem adorns the vest pocket of the blazer.

The Stage Band will again be performing for the Chamber of Commerce breakfast this fall, as well as other civic events. The ensemble will also perform at the Greater Southwest Music Festival in Amarillo in the spring.

Their repertoire includes sassy pop and jazz numbers including such favorites as "Basin Street Blues" and hits by rock ensembles Blood, Sweat and Tears and Chicago.

Locals' Grandson At West Point

Rusty Perkins, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Perkins of 2519 12th Avenue, has enrolled this summer at West Point Military Academy.

He graduated last May from high school in Huntsville, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins attended the ceremony.

Sophomores went through rehearsals Monday under CHS band director J.W. King. Sectional and full band rehearsals began Aug. 6 at the high school.

Barbecue Set Saturday

Happy Days Begin Today

More than 1500 fun-seekers will go to Happy this weekend for a big dose of entertainment and a big helping of barbecue and beans.

Happy's Jaycees will spend all night Friday night cooking up a barbecue beef dinner that can't be beat to serve at a price which itself can't be beat.

The activities in the annual Happy Days Celebration begin tonight, though.

An amateur rodeo open to all comers begins tonight at 8 o'clock at the Happy rodeo arena. The rodeo continues each night through Saturday at the same time and place. Dances will follow each performance at the Jaycee hall.

Seven beeves are scheduled to simmer under special sauce Friday night in preparation for the big day of the celebration on Saturday.

Happy merchants are cleaning the sidewalks and preparing the festive decorations for Saturday's influx of more than a thousand old-timers, fun-lovers and former residents.

A giant parade with entries expected from throughout the region, begins at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and is set to travel down Happy's main street.

Old-timers, classified as persons 65 years of age and older, will get first serving at the barbecue with their lunch served at 11:30 a.m. at Stephenson Park.

Barbecue will be served the public starting at noon and those who come will be able to eat beef, beans and all the trimmings plus iced tea for $1 per plate.

Barbecue for the old-timers will be free.

Following the barbecue, the Jaycees plan to set up a park full of games and contests for young and old — including a beard-growing contest, horseshoe contest and many others.

WT Tennis Camp. Tanya has been busy working on her yells at the cheerleader camp at Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

A housewife whose family swears by her cooking, Eileen likes to pitch in a helping hand with some of her husband's endeavors, including co-teaching his Sunday school class at the First Methodist Church.

Both natives of Amarillo, Mother and Father Kent first met in the seventh grade while attending a church camp at Ceta Canyon — but didn't start dating until they were seniors in high school.

Kent taught tennis for ten years in the Midland public schools before moving back to Amarillo, where he coached tennis for a year and a half at Amarillo High School. He assumed his duties as WT coach in 1969.

Todd has already played in several tennis tournaments and is becoming a formidable opponent for his father. Kent said that younger son Trey has been playing Little League baseball this summer and "coming along" well as a prospective tennis player.

The whole family likes to ski and has taken two trips to the slopes of Red River, N.M. this year.

The role of dad comes easy for Kent, who also takes a paternal interest in his "boys" at WTSU. Unlike the traditional no-nonsense coach, Kent says he reigns over his team with an easy hand, trusting in his players to know that they should stay in good shape until the next match. "These fellas are a lot more independent than they used to be," he said.

"I think their good training showed up real well this year in the Missouri Valley tournament," said Mrs. Kent. "Many of the teams were completely out by the end of the day, but ours was still going."

"A college coach has to be more of a mother and father to his boys than a high school coach," Kent are there. Here, the boys come to me with their problems."

In addition to sports, the family enjoys going to the movies, and the parents say they take competitive satisfaction in "the running battle with the neighbors" in bridge games.

A kindly man who likes to help young people with their problems, Coach Kent nevertheless says there are some problems that his boys have that he just can't solve.

"I can't help them with their homework," Kent said, with special reference to the mind-boggling New Math, "I'm not that smart."

$9000 was raised, thus giving them the purchasing power of $18,000.

Soon, other persons were contacted to help finance the purchase and two of the men traveled to the South Texas side of the border with Mexico.

But, Dowlen said, a big federal raid in Mexico made the purchase impossible and the two returned to Amarillo with the money. The money was left at the home of one man and while he was away, it was stolen, Dowlen said.

In an effort to discover who had stolen the money, the men involved in the venture were forced to take a lie detector test by the primary backer of the plan, Dowlen said.

In the meantime, one of the men became worried and told the story of the plan to officers in the Metro Intelligence Unit.

Dowlen said $18,000 could purchase marijuana which would have a street value in Amarillo of well over $100,000.

The five indicted on the conspiracy charges were among 19 indicted on various counts Monday by the grand jury, headed by Dr. Jim Underwood.

Also indicted was Jimmy E. Morrison, 38, of Amarillo, who is charged with assault with intent to rape in connection with the June 14 assault of a Canyon woman at a local laundromat.

Robert McCune of Amarillo was indicted on statutory rape charges. McCune has not yet been arrested by officers. He is charged with the rape of his stepdaughter.

Others indicted were Walter A. Hunter, Rodney W. Tanner, Lawrence G. Daniel, Dan Lerich Reid, and James E. Fitzmaurice Jr., all charged with possession of marijuana.

Kenneth Lyon, Dennis Blankenship and Gary D. Lewis were indicted on charges of burglary. Patricia A. Bates was indicted on a charge of theft over $50. Larry W. Brundage was indicted on a charge of theft by bailer. Judy Goodman was indicted on a charge of forgery and passing and Roy E. Mills was indicted on a charge of burglary of a motor vehicle.

All indicted except Daniel are from Amarillo. Daniel gives a Lubbock address.

They still do not have funding for the other $800,000 needed to finance construction, but the road for funding has been paved.

The federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a guarantee for a $1.1 million loan for the construction.

And, Administrator Ray Grimes has said that the board can choose the HEW guaranteed loan or issue revenue bonds to

Cadet Finishes Ranger Camp

ROTC Cadet Ronald R. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross L. Russell, 403 Taylor Lane, attended the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps Ranger Camp at Ft. Benning, Ga.

During the grueling nine-week course, he learned and practiced basic ranger skills, such as land navigation, patrolling and mountaineering. The training, which was a substitute for the normal ROTC summer camp required of all cadets before commissioning, concluded with a two-week counter guerrilla operation in the coastal swamps of northwest Florida. Graduates of the camp were awarded the yellow and black shoulder tab worn by all rangers.

finance the other funds needed.

Final decision on how the hospital will be financed will not be made until Sept. 13 when the board opens bids.

Grimes said Monday their decision will rest on the interest rates available on each type of financing.

Cadet Attends ROTC Summer Camp

Cadet Gary R. Moore, 21, son of Dr. Dudley Moore Jr. of Canyon, received practical work in military leadership at the Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps Advanced Summer Camp at Ft. Riley, Kan., from June 16 - July 27.

Cadet Moore, a student at Texas A&M University in College Station, was one of some 7,200 students who attended Army ROTC training at five installations in the United States.

The ROTC advanced camp provides an opportunity for cadets to develop and demonstrate leadership capabilities in a field training environment. The instruction supplements theories and concepts which cadets learned in the classroom on campus.

Cadets normally attend the training between their junior and senior years. This enables them to better comprehend their final year of classroom work and to function as cadet leaders on campus.

His mother, Mrs. Doris Moore, lives in Kentucky.

Estates addition.

Lindsey, who himself worked up a tentative specification sheet for future development road construction, was strongly against allowing Dwight to build two new roads in the addition with the assumption that the county would at some time in the future assume maintenance of the roads.

Dwight told commissioners the roads were built five years ago and had not been maintained since that time.

Pictures presented by Lindsey dramatically illustrated that fact. The pictures showed roads with deep ruts gouged down the centers and weeds sprouting profusely through the pavement.

Lindsey contended that Dwight should not be allowed to build roads of the same quality again since the county will be forced to spend on the order of $5000 per mile to maintain the two current roads.

He also advocated that the roads be constructed with either a concrete valley for drainage or with curb and gutter.

Dwight contended that addition of curb and gutter to the property would raise the land values to an unsaleable rate.

On a motion from John Fulgenzi, the commissioners agreed to seek specifications for county road construction in developments from an independent engineering firm.

In other business, commissioners agreed to continue discussion next Monday on what to do about the possible pollution of the area's underground water through bore-hole type cess-pools.

Previously, the commissioners had two meetings with area health officials to discuss what role the court could play in regulating the drilling of bore-holes for waste disposal.

West Texas State University professor Dr. Bob Wynn was earlier asked by the court to work with area drillers to come up with a self-regulation proposal.

will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree at summer convocation.

Masters degrees in Arts, Business Administration and Education are being awarded to Marcia Mullican Caldwell, Gretchen M. Hatcher, Jerry Don Whitaker, Mary Marguerite Stephens Williams, Jimmie Lee Burkett, Eugene D. Colgan, William Boyd Long Jr., Billy J. Patton, Wallace B. Busted, Raydra E. Byrd, Louise Hall Dorsey, James L. Hare, Leonard Lynn Kent, Myra Jean Kent, Franklin B. Mitchell, Nita J. Davis Nickell, Beverly Peck Peters, Patsy J. Sommer, and Sammie R. Weaver.

age and older in the Panhandle.

"Our present societal structure has few purposeful places for these people," Laycock's proposal states. "They are retired from active participation in their chosen occupations. There are no new vocational purposes for these people even pending re-education. In fact, our society accepts people in the over 65 age bracket as wards of the state; and, finding no useful purpose for them, sees no reason to provide them education."

Laycock's proposal states that society accepts "the illusion that education is something which has been 'completed' at some earlier phase of life."

"Yet, all studies of the aging affirm the belief that lack of mission or purpose in life contributes to rapid deterioration both mentally and physically."

The proposal reaffirms the belief expressed several times by new WTSU President Lloyd I. Watkins that "education should be viewed as a life-long enhancing activity; and the task of the professional educator is to discover the dimensions of that activity as it applies to the phase of life beyond age 65."

It is proposed that the continuing education program at the university study the possibilities. The program will be labeled the Senior Citizen Educational Outreach Project.

Word on coordinating board action on the proposal is expected soon, and their action will be presented the university regents for further action in the fall.

News Brief

The newest thing about the Canyon Junior High School choir this year will be its director.

Doug McCause, who holds a Bachelor of Music Education degree from West Texas State University, is the new CJHS choir director.

He takes choral duties over from Gene Murray, who after 15 years as a choral conductor, has decided to try his hand at teaching speech and English at the junior high school.

have located the lab at WTSU. The bill, however, ran into opposition in the Senate and was passed by a conference committee stating that the lab could be located at a site in either Potter or Randall counties.

"I'm disappointed they chose not to cooperate with West Texas," he said.

F.V. Wallace, director of the Amarillo Area Foundation, said Wednesday he was pleasantly surprised by the action since the foundation made only a minimal effort to have the lab located in the medical center.

He said several Amarillo veterinarians persuaded the foundation to present a site for consideration originally.

The foundation's executive committee will consider within the next two weeks whether they really want to have the lab located at the medical center, he said.

He declined to speculate on whether the board would go along with the proposal.

CHS Choral Director Tom Jennings Talks About Repertoire For The Fall Season

Fresh with new ideas from his choral conductor's workshop experience this summer, Tom Jennings, CHS choir director, has several musical ideas for the fall.

Among them, is that of starting off the year on the lighter side.

In the past, the annual fall concert has featured a program of "heavier" numbers in the choral repertoire. This year, following the suggestions of WISU choral

News Brief

Week-day kindergarten for four-year-olds will open Sept. 4 at the First Methodist Church here. The kindergarten will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. For further information call 655-3540, the church office.

camp guest clinician Lee Kjelsson, Jennings will feature his four choirs in a program of lighter pieces, including gospel spirituals and pop tunes.

Highlighting the Oct. 29 concert will be such spirituals as "Creation," a Tom Scott arrangement of James Weldon Johnson's unusual poem based on the Book of Genesis, Jester Hairston's "Hold On!" and "Gossip, Gossip" will also be among featured numbers in the fall repertoire.

Representing the German Baroque period in choral music will be Schoetz-Granville's "So I Depart." Taken from Renaissance choral literature will be Vecchi's madrigal tune, "White and Gentle Swan." Also programmed is Brahms' "O Schöne Nacht."

Pop tunes are favorites among young choral students, said Jennings, and this year's Top Forty offering will be a Ed Lojeski arrangement of Roberta Flack's big hit, "The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face," as well as selections from the musical, "Godspell."

A special feature this year for the masculine members of the choir will be an all-men's group who will be performing a repertoire of robust music including one entitled "The Faucet," a Robert Shaw arrangement of "Buffalo Gals," and "Old Man Noah."

Two girls choirs — one composed of members of Jennings' advanced mixed chorale, and one from the mixed choir, will also be organized this fall.

About 80 students are expected to comprise the mixed choir.

Pre-enrollment figures show about 64 students in the advanced mixed choirs.

Auditions will be held the first week of school for the Madrigal Choir, to consist of 25 voices, and the Show Choir, a group of about 16 students organized to perform a pop repertoire for various school and civic functions.

Jennings said that civic groups in Canyon wishing to book the Show Choir this fall should contact him at the high school.

Other scheduled activities for the choir this fall will be participation in the All-Region Auditions on Nov. 3, and a Christmas concert, slated Dec. 17.

Jennings also reported that the men choral students will have a new look this fall with black tuxedos instead of the traditional blazers.

Tom Jennings, CHS choral director, looks over new sheet music to be performed this fall by his choirs.

Along The Grapevine

By Mary Alice Hines

I AM ANXIOUS to see who I look like this week, Mary Neal Henry or myself. At least I found out how many people read my column and noticed the picture-switch. But my trusty editor, Carroll Wilson, assured me that the printers have been alerted to the mistakes, so I should look a little more like Mary Alice this week.

I HAVE A lot of vacation news this week and if you haven't noticed or realized, we are about to run out of summer. There will be a lot of end-of-the-summer traveling in the next few weeks. The school kids start to school this Wednesday, so this weekend is the last chance. But please drive carefully on the highways, there will be a lot of folks trying to squeeze in some miles this weekend.

MACK AND PEGGY Bush took about eight boys from the Canyon Troop 31 to El Paso last weekend for a conference of the Leadership Corps. It was an interesting and enjoyable trip.

BENNY AND JERRY Woods just returned from a week-long trip that covered a lot of territory. They first went to Las Cruces to visit with Jerry's relatives there and took a shopping trip across the border. They traversed the state of New Mexico all the way north to Chama and then went on to tour Southern Colorado. They enjoyed just driving and stopping when they saw something interesting.

HAP MCATEE HAS enjoyed having all of his family here recently. Terry and Gary McAtee were here from Corpus Christi visiting their dad, Hap, and brother, Mike McAtee and his family. Terry and Gary are both teaching in the Corpus school system and Gary also coaches. Hap has been recuperating from surgery that he had last month and is doing just fine. This week his daughter, Dora Jean Taylor and grandson, David, flew in from Anaheim, Calif. Her husband, Dan, will be driving in this weekend in their camper. They plan to make a vacation of the trip home.

JOEL AND BONITA Oliver and their children are home from a trip to Denver to visit his sister, Kay. They spent some time at her cabin in the mountains.

MAJOR BILL RITCHIE has returned from summer camp at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. The Ritchies have had a full summer. Mary Ada spent time with her parents, the W.Q. Johnsons, in Iowa. Their daughter spent most of the summer visiting there. William Ritchie, IV, Bill and Mary Ada's son, has spent most of the summer at Camp Mohawk, close to Rhineland, Wis. Mary Ada will be teaching Retailing and Merchandising at Amarillo College this next term and she said she still had some room left in her classes. Anyone interested in taking the course should call the Mid-Management Dept. at Amarillo College.

ROBERT AND LINDA West and their children, Nancy Kay and Daryl, recently returned from a week in the New Mexico mountains. They went to Cimarron Canyon and on up to Tres Ritos. They enjoyed the camping and the cool mountain air. They went with friends from Austin.

WAYNE AND LINDA Ray and their boys, Bobby and David, enjoyed a stay at Port Aransas, an island out from Corpus Christi. Wayne could not stay too long because he had to get back for the College Football ticket sales. The ticket sale campaign was a success. I understand Linda said they certainly enjoyed the swimming and sunning on the island.

WELL, THIS OLD Daihatsu just couldn't stay away during the XII celebration. There is something that just draws you back on the first weekend of every August. I took our children, Brett and Missy, up early last week so they could see all the activities and then Steve came up Saturday after he closed the store. We sure did enjoy the free barbecue. They fed about 18,000 people and they didn't seem to have a beef shortage. The local ranchers donate beef for the affair.

Steve's sister, Sandra King was here recently with her husband, Albert, and children, Kimi and Karisa, from Manhattan, Kan. They stayed with Steve's folks, Janney Bee and Keith Hines. Also visiting with them were Keith's brother and sister-in-law, Tibb and Lona Hines from Grand Junction, Colo. All of them took a weekend trip to Carlsbad Caverns. Albert is a professor of economics at Kansas State University and Sandra is teaching one course there and working on her doctorate degree in Nutrition. We surely enjoyed their visit.

I GOT A note from Della Mae Schuette the other day and she said her son, David, is really enjoying his tour of duty in Germany. He is in the special services of the Army and they entertain at the area bases there. Bill and Della Mae's daughter, Marilyn, and Roxie Knox are working in the First Aid Station at the Lutheran Church Camp in Ceta Glen Canyon for a week.

Mrs. Ida Schuette and Mrs. Ericka Burkhalter have returned from a sight-seeing and business trip to Arkansas. They also visited with former Canyon residents, Mrs. Charlie Bauer and Mrs. Okke Okkena.

CONGRATULATIONS TO CARROLL and Susan Wilson on the birth of their new daughter. This is one long wait that is certainly worth it. Every woman knows the misery of pregnancy, but wow! look what you have to show for it. I know how happy Susan and Carroll are about this beautiful new addition to their lovely family.

WELL, THAT IS all the news for this week. I want to offer my sincere welcome to Dr. Lloyd Watkins and his family. I feel sure they will grow to love Canyon and these wonderful Panhandle people. At the McDonalds on Teckla St. in Amarillo, there is a little story on the wall about the Panhandle area. Briefly, it goes like this: "When God was creating the earth he came to the Panhandle area. He flattened it all out, but became weary before he made it beautiful. He decided to leave it until the next day. When he returned to it, he decided not to finish it. Instead, he made people who would love it the way it was." It may not be a true story, but I think it certainly is a lovely way to think about it.

CHS Choral Director Serving On Committee

Tom Jennings, Canyon High School choral director, is currently on the six-man committee of the Texas Music Educators Association charged with duty of studying the effects of the quarter-system on public school music programs.

Jennings was appointed by IMEA, president J.W. King, director of band at Canyon High School. Other choral directors serving on the committee include those from Pasadena, Corpus Christi, Fort Worth, Leaveland and Plainview.

Jennings said that he plans to publish the results of his own findings in a fall issue of the southwestern Musician magazine, the official organ of the IMEA.

To date, Jennings said he has found both advantages and disadvantages to the public school music program as a result of the implementation of the quarter system.

The Canyon public schools will launch a three-quarter system this fall. The deadline is Sept. 19, 1973 for all Texas schools to implement a quarter-system.

Quarter System Creates Spirit Of Ferment In Canyon Schools

Dr. Lloyd Watkins, new president of West Texas State University, left, and his wife, talk in the receiving line with several visitors who attended a formal reception for the new president last weekend. The Canyon Chamber of Commerce will host a luncheon to welcome Watkins on Monday afternoon.

Dr. Watkins Due Welcome

Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Watkins of West Texas State University will be guests at a welcoming luncheon Monday noon sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Watkins became president of WTSU Aug. 1, succeeding Dr. Raymond Raillard, chamber president, said the general public as well as members of the university faculty and administration are invited. The cost is $2.75 per person, he said.

(ed. note. — The second in a series of interviews with Mrs. Ruth Holladay, director of secondary curriculum in Canyon public schools, the following article relates specific changes in the school program due to the implementation of the quarter system this fall.)

Time and tradition gave the high school study hall a hoary old respectability for years, although in the eyes of many, it was just a kind of glorified baby-sitting.

But the study hall, along with other aspects of the public school curriculum that have outlasted their usefulness, will be dismissed when the quarter-system goes into effect this fall.

In their place, however, teachers, counselors and principals have created a curriculum consisting of a whole spectrum of electives, many of which were especially devised for the new system. Reading the scheduled classes for Canyon High School next fall, it's hard to distinguish its offerings from those seen in a college catalogue.

Although the quarter system wasn't the reason for many of the changes in Canyon public school education, many of which have been in the heads of educators for years, the fast-approaching deadline for its implementation created a spirit of ferment in the school through which the old and worn-out could be quickly discarded, and the new and progressive introduced with a minimum of red tape.

In the past, the philosophy of education in the public schools has stressed one, standardized education for everybody. No more. The flexibility of the quarter system will allow students to receive specialized training in their favored areas, be it auto mechanics, art, drama or creative writing.

Changes in the elementary school curriculum due to the quarter system will be negligible, said Mrs. Holladay. It is in junior high school that the student will first experience the greater freedom of choice in his schoolwork due to the new program.

Whereas a junior high student was once allowed two semesters to take two electives, he can now choose three electives out of four offerings, including art, shop, reading and speech, which may be taken in three-quarters. Each elective is a 12-week, self-contained course. Full year electives will remain those of band, choir and athletics.

Ninth grade English will also be revised due to the quarter system. The course will be segmented into three quarters. The first will emphasize grammar; the second, composition; and the third, literature. Some integration of the three will occur under the new system. In the past, the English course has been characterized by complete integration.

A welcome change for eighth and eleventh grade teachers, who formerly had to squeeze the entirety of American history into a year's course in each grade, will be a new set-up under the quarter-system. Beginning in the fall, CJHS will introduce a back-to-back program with American history through 1865 covered in a three-quarter or one year course in the eighth grade, and the period after 1865 covered in a full year ninth grade course. Hence, said Mrs. Holladay, the student's entire American History requirement will be completed by the time he enters high school.

Several high school departments will undergo significant revision due to the introduction of the quarter system. Those departments and the changes to occur within them are:

ENGLISH
Under the old system, students were required to take world literature at the sophomore level, American literature at the junior level and British literature at the senior level.

Now, a student entering his sophomore year will be required to take one quarter each of grammar and composition, and one quarter thereafter in English for each quarter he is enrolled.

Since a student will be enrolled in English for as long as he's in high school, the creators of the Canyon quarter-system have gone to great lengths to assure him that there will be an English course of some kind that most touches on his interests and inclinations.

After taking the required grammar and composition, a student may choose such courses as those in Short Stories, Science Fiction, Shakespeare, Ethnic Literature, Advanced Composition, Non-Fiction, British Novel, American Novel, World Literature, Modern Poetry, Classical Backgrounds, the American Novel, Vocabulary I and II, and The Tale.

And if such an unprecedented variety of courses doesn't suit the student's fancy, there's a course in Business English — designed as a "survival course in using the English language for those who will be living in a complex world as adults," according to Mrs. Holladay, who has written the class text especially for the course. The course encompasses work in reading, spelling, vocabulary, grammar and informal research. Assignments vary with the student — a prospective auto mechanic "might be assigned a report on his research in the parking lot," said Mrs. Holladay.

SOCIAL STUDIES
The requirement in government will be changed from one semester or 18 weeks, to two quarters, or 24 weeks.

Three-quarters will be offered in world geography, each a different course that may be taken independently of others. All three quarters of world geography taken together, however, may be used as a substitute for world history, which, under the new system, has been shifted from the ninth to the 11th grade level.

Electives in the department will include a quarter-course in social studies problems, and one in "advanced Texas studies," the latter dealing with various political, economic, geographical and historical aspects of the Lone Star State. Along with a quarter-course in economics, the two new courses are offered to seniors only.

SPEECH-DRAMA
What was formerly Speech II, a full year course, will now be segmented into three, self-contained quarters, from which the student may choose any or all. The first quarter will encompass interpretive reading; the second will be exclusively devoted to work aimed for presentation at the University Interscholastic League competition. The third focuses on radio and television.

Drama I will be similarly segmented into three, dependent quarters consisting of Introduction to the Theatre, Acting Techniques and Stage Production.

Drama II will be a three-quarter or full year workshop devoted to actual production of dramatic works.

One of the unique features of the speech and drama program under the quarter system is that it gives the student credit for his work in preparation for both UIL competition and school productions.

LANGUAGES
Whereas third-year Spanish and French classes were once all-year courses, they will now be segmented into quarters. Offerings may be taken independently of each other. Quarters are offered in the history, culture or literature of the countries in which the language is spoken.

The new scheduling provides more intensive study of the language, and also allows the student greater flexibility in scheduling. A student for example who plans to take part in football activities and "doesn't think he'll have time for third year language," may postpone his French or Spanish study to an off-season quarter, Mrs. Holladay illustrated.

New to the curriculum this year will be a three-quarter or one-year course in Latin.

MATHEMATICS
What was formerly called Related Math I and II will now be entitled Fundamentals of Mathematics, according to state guidelines. An attempt will be made in these courses to offer more individualized instruction to each student. The course is offered on the freshman and sophomore levels to students who choose not to take algebra or geometry, said Mrs. Holladay.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Where one semester of health education was formerly required for graduation, two-quarters is now the requirement.

Instead of a required one and a half semesters of physical education, five quarters of P.E. are now needed for graduation.

SCIENCE
A new quarter course in Physiology and Anatomy will be introduced into the science program this fall.

BUSINESS
For those who want to learn typing skills for writing college term papers and for other personal use, a new course with no typing prerequisites will be offered in Personal Typing.

Another new quarter-course

New Course At CHS

As a result of the introduction of the quarter-system into the public schools this fall, a new course has evolved at Canyon High School that may be one of the most popular in its curriculum.

Beginning in the second quarter (Nov. 17) a 12-week course in Musical Production will be offered to interested music, drama and art students.

The course will focus on all aspects of musical production, including stage and choral music, acting, stage technology and artistic direction.

According to Tom Jennings, CHS choral director, the course was designed to give credit to those students involved in the spring musical production who ordinarily receive no credit for hours of extra work.

With the introduction of the shorter quarter system, students will now be able to receive a complete grade for their involvement in the musical production, he said.

In pre-enrollment sessions conducted last spring, about 90 students signed up for the new offering. However, due to schedule conflicts with the required curriculum, that number of students accepted for the course was cut about in half.

Class instructors will be Mrs. Charlotte Brantley, CHS art instructor and costume director for TEXAS, Charles Wright, instructor of drama at CHS, and Jennings.

You can sell most anything with a SEEK ad. Call 655-7121.

will be one in Business Law.

ART
Art I will still be a prerequisite for further study. But after the rudimentary course is completed, students may choose quarters for specific artistic training including those in drawing, painting, graphics, ceramics, art history, textiles, sculpture, jewelry and metals.

HOME ECONOMICS

Homemaking III will no longer be taught. Instead, several quarter courses will be offered, none of which require previous credit in the department. These courses include Home and Family Living, Home Furnishing, Child Development, Consumer Education and Home Management for Boys (better known at CHS as "Bachelor Survival Course").

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Mrs. Holladay reported that students are "signing up like crazy" for a new course offering in plastics, which adds a third dimension to the department's wood shop and architectural drafting curriculum.

MUSIC

A new course designed to give credit to those who devote their time and talents to the school's musical production is planned for the second quarter.

INDEPENDENT STUDY

If, scanning the long list of electives to be offered in the fall, a student feels he still can't find a course ideal for his future plans, he has the opportunity to formulate his own course of study under this new quarter-course creation.

The student proposes his own research project in a field of his choosing, and works independently on it while consulting once a week with a teacher assigned to his project.

The course will also be useful to senior students who need a course for graduation but who cannot fit it into their regular class schedule, said Mrs. Holladay.

One of the most appealing aspects of the new system for students will be "a shift away from homework," said Mrs. Holladay. The sizable increase in electives will result in an increased use of classroom sets of books and study materials, where standard textbooks have been issued to students in most courses in the past. Thus, said Mrs. Holladay, much of what students were once required to take home will now be undertaken in class.

An increase in use of paperback books will also result, Mrs. Holladay said. A system is currently being devised by which the library will serve as a central clearinghouse for sale, re-sale and buying back of paperbacks.

Instrumental in the planning and scheduling of the Canyon quarter system, along with Mrs. Holladay, were Carroll Killingsworth, CHS counselor, and Ruby Fatheree, CJHS counselor.

The Canyon system, as conceived on the boards, was meant to make the quarter system fit the needs of the Canyon schools, and not to mold those needs to suit the quarter-system. That's why, in Canyon, parents and teachers will have to readjust their mathematics a bit to think of a quarter as a third of a year. Since Canyon didn't seem to need a fourth or summer quarter to make full year's use of its facilities, local educators decided not to implement the fourth quarter.

Else, some schools will be implementing the fourth quarter — an implementation which requires local funding since the state does not finance summer quarters. Thus, communities whose school quarters actually equal one quarter pay out of their own purse for the additional summer quarter — and for mathematical perfection.

(Next week — Mrs. Holladay points out advantages and disadvantages of the quarter-system.)

See ya! Mary Neal

SANDY RAILSBACK, DAUGHTER of Joyce and Dick Railsback, has received a Friends of Fine Arts Scholarship to West Texas State University, because of her capability demonstrated in the field of speech.

KAREN SIMS, DAUGHTER of Ann and Weldon Sims, received from WTSU a $500 scholarship as salutatorian of the 1973 graduating class of Dimmitt High. Karen is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sims and Dorothy Magness of Dimmitt.

JIM DYER BEGINS Wesley on September 10 in an advanced Clinical Pastoral Education Program. It will last until May, 1974. At that time, Jim's plans are to apply to Southwestern Seminary to work on a Doctor's degree. If all goes well, the Dyers will be back in Texas after over ten years.

MRS. WALKER PARKER and Jeanne and Mrs. Wesley Woods of Canyon were in Hereford last Friday. They met and visited Imogene Parker of Adrian. They also saw Jeanne's USDA Inspector friend, J. D. Bushy of Pharr, Texas. Because of Jeanne's interest in food preservation and 4-H, Mr. Pharr has always sent Jeanne a lot of literature.

NANCY AND WALKER Parker attended a watermelon and cantaloupe feast at Thompson Park recently. This was held by the Texas Hi Plains Commercial Rabbit Raisers Association.

NANCY HAS JUST completed a three week education course at WTSU. She says, "Sure is hard for a teacher to be a student."

MY SINCERE SYMPATHY and prayers are with the family of Mrs. L. L. Airhart, Jessie Adney Airhart, 77, passed away last Thursday night and services were held on Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Happy. Brother Paul Heil officiated. Mrs. Airhart was buried in the Happy Cemetery beside her husband, who preceded her in death in 1972. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

SURVIVORS INCLUDE FOUR sons: James of San Jose, Calif.; L. L. of Torrance, Calif.; G. of Amarillo; and Tom, also of Amarillo, three daughters, Mrs. George (Modenia) Rahlits of Happy; Mrs. John Brechtel of Alexandria, La. and Mrs. L. G. McAttee of Laverne, Okla.; a sister, Mrs. J. D. Ashburn of Houston, 22 grandchildren, 14 great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild.

LENA AND BABE Walberg's grandchildren have been here for a visit and I missed them, too.

BROTHER AND MRS. Paul Heil and their Paula, Shannon and Shawn vacationed in Vallecito, Colo. last week.

DR. AND MRS. Bill Conway have been vacationing and visiting friends in and around the state of Colorado this week.

ANGELIQUE, J.T., SHERI and I returned from Durango, Colo., late Monday night. We enjoyed the mountains and the trees and the cool weather. They are very nice for a change. We stayed with Ruth and Snapper Grinnell. They asked about Ruth and Pat Maynard and their boys. The Maynards used to stay with the Grinnells when they owned a motel in Red River. They are very nice people.

THE NAVAJO TRAIL Fiesta Rodeo had over $12,000 in prize money. J. L. Jones of Iowa Park, Tex., was the only Texas cowboy who I can remember even being entered and he won a part of the calf roping and bull dogging.

ANGELIQUE ENJOYED the municipal swimming pool. And she said the life guard liked her. The pool was just across the alley from the fair grounds and the life guards were very conscientious so I didn't mind letting her go swimming. She always found a friend in the pool. At 8 years of age, the whole world is wonderful.

WE SPENT SUNDAY night in Santa Fe... to break up the long trip home. Monday, we toured Santa Fe and ate in an "authentic" Mexican cafe. It was different, but delicious. We went through the plaza, palace of governors, several churches and the oldest house in America. Monday was a good day for sight seeing. There were few tourists.

ON THE WAY home, we saw a bear in the road. He was going to cross until he saw us, then he scampered off in the brush. We also saw two small deer. But none of us had ever seen a bear except in a cage in the zoo. He wasn't too large and the kids thought we could bring him home. I told them even if we could catch him, he'd probably clean out that car.

THE TRIP WAS interesting and different. The treasurer of the Navajo Trail Fiesta wanted me to come back next year. I considered that a compliment. I didn't accept.

SEE YOU IN Happy on Saturday.

See ya! Mary Neal

Alaska Or Bust Said CJHS Retiree

When Mrs. Ed Weeks covered a chapter on the 49th state in the Union in 1969, she made a promise to herself that someday she'd visit that cold, northerly state.

Son Greeted By LaGrone

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley LaGrone, 1006 3rd Ave., proudly announce the birth of a son, Brady Shannon, born Aug. 11, at Neblett Memorial Hospital weighing 6 lbs. 1 oz., measuring 17 1/2 inches in length.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Thomas, Canyon.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Bulman and Mr. and Mrs. Brack LaGrone, Canyon.

Mr. LaGrone is a junior student at WTSU and is employed at Armour Foods, Hereford.

Recently, Mrs. Weeks and Mrs. Helen Reynolds returned from a month-long guided tour of Alaska.

Mrs. Weeks, former head of the Canyon Junior High School social studies department, said that she gained many insights not available in the school texts.

For instance, Eskimos "aren't what we think they are," she said.

Some of the Eskimos are so highly educated one could barely understand them—they speak the English language so much better than us.

Indians, too, seemed to have a far more sophisticated life style than is often believed, she said.

The Canyon duo traveled over the 1,000 mile Alcan Highway, an unpaved stretch of frozen tundra road. They toured the Yukon territory, parts of British Columbia, and some of the little-explored areas of the Alaskan interior.

Mrs. Weeks commented that evidence of the anticipation of the Alaskan oil pipeline could be seen in numerous areas. She said several tourists in her company took pictures of the huge pipes lying on the ground at several locations.

Meysers Welcome New Baby Son

Mr. and Mrs. Elow Myers of Houston, announce the birth of a son, Eric Michael, born Aug. 11, in Houston, weighing 7 1/2 lbs.

Eric has a sister named Dena Michelle.

Cub, Boy Scouts Close Out Busy Summer Seasons

By TROYCE MULHERIN
REPERCUSSIONS
GREETINGS:

GUESS WHO DOESN'T have to go on vacation, family type, next year? So much for levity. In fact, hubby has requested equal time. Which request was promptly and vehemently denied. A sequel to last week's column is really not necessary, now is it.

THE CUB SCOUTS and Scouts in Gene Howe territory have been very busy wrapping up their various summer activities. Cub Scouts have returned from Cub Country held at Camp Don Herrington last weekend. Activities included swimming, rowing, volleyball and archery. Joining in on the fun time were Mike and David Gensler, Mike Morgan, David Bromley, Konny Kyle, Kelly Mayfield, Jeff Pike, Mark McGinnis, Allen Tomes, Tim Nash, Kevin Carroll, Rusty Hawkins, Donald and Kevin Oliver, Tim Carlisle, Tim and Steve Stokes, and Shannon Edwards.

GROWN-UP TYPES joining in included Sarah and Billy Edwards, Jackie Mayfield, Louise Bromley, and Betty Stokes. Sandy Mayfield and a friend also went along.

THE CUBS WILL resume activities shortly after school starts, and are ever on the lookout for new boys. Pack 130 sure has a lot of fun, and feel the more the merrier. Any youngster eight years old and interested in Cubbing will be welcome. Just let a Cub or one of the leaders know of your desire to be a Cub, and you will be on the road leading to a lot of family fun and shared interests.

THOUGH THEY WERE quite happy where they were, several members of Troop 130 of the Boy Scouts hesitantly folded their tents and silently returned to Big A after four days in New Mexico. The Scouts camped in the Taos ski basin several nights and then moved on to Cimarron Canyon for a night or so. While in the vicinity, and seeing as they were working on a Hiking Belt Award, Bart Solbrig, Allen, Kurt, and David Johnson, Bobby Threat, Don Leach, Trent Silvertooth, and Ken Cates pitted their endurance and enthusiasm against Wheeler Peak. Several of the youngsters made it all the way up and down again. No small feat either, as Wheeler is the highest mountain in New Mexico.

SCOUT MASTER, CARL Johnson, C.O. Hillman, Assistant Scout Master, and Pete Solbrig provided some adult-type companionship for the boys while they fished and hiked, and worked. The group toured Taos and visited the bridge over the Rio Grande, such bridge being the second highest in the United States. (Also, a lot of fun from which to throw rocks).

FIRST MORNING OUT the Scouts ate a regular type breakfast (menu resembled a feast). Thereafter, it was dehydrated foods all the way. The blueberry cobbler and milkshakes rated high as favorites.

FEEL RELUCTANTLY COMPELLED to remind these Scouts, as well as all other school-age youngsters that that time is rapidly approaching. Registration at Gene Howe Monday. Kindergarten and elementary persons with last names beginning with the letters A through K do their signing up in the morning, and those with last names with L through Z do their thing in the afternoon.

YOUR PTA EXECUTIVE Committee has met and formulated initial plans for the coming school year. Tables will be set up at Gene Howe on registration day. Same will be manned (womaned?) by PTA people for the purpose of inviting parents to join this association. Dues are one dollar. Hopefully both parents will join, making a total of two dollars per family. Do join. Come to the meetings. Participate. Enjoy. A concerted membership drive (meaning a note brought home by the youngsters), will be held shortly after school starts. So, if you miss the PTA Monday, be sure to not miss it later on — cause, if you do miss joining, you will miss out on a lot.

A VERY HAPPY anniversary to Sherrie and Roy Cates, who observe same on Saturday! THE LEONARD SCHMIDTS have returned from a two-week trip to the southern environs. They started off with a trip to Six Flags. On to New Orleans for a visit with relatives and a tour of Bourbon Street. They enjoyed a coastline drive to Florida's capital city, Tallahassee, stopping along the way to enjoy the beach. On to Orlando and a twelve-hour day at Disney World. (Leonard and Glenna found the haunted house fascinating). Next, to Columbus, Ga., where they spent the week with friends. Leonard played golf everyday, qualifying the trip as a genuine vacation. Glenna managed to latch onto some real nice bottles, which will soon be known as terrariums.

ONE DAY OF this week was spent at the hospital. Son Len had a wee bit of an accident at Slippery Rock Park, and for a while entertained thoughts of a broken arm. Fortunately, there were no broken bones, though.

CARLA, STEVE AND Russell got to swim every day and adapted readily to beach life.

JANICE DELANEY BECAME twelve years of age on the 6th. To celebrate, those fearless camper friends of hers dropped by and informed her they were going to spend the weekend at Palo Duro Canyon. Janice hastily gathered up the necessities of life and joined with Traci Butkin, Lisa Erwin, Shelley Shenk, Cindy Todd and Jo Delaney for a birthday/camping party.

ARLEAN TODD AND Dee Delaney tagged along. (They were needed for the driving and cooking chores). These ladies were also accused of giggling and laughing all night. There was a reason for the mirth, but you will have to ask this of them. Last time these two mistook raccoons for bears. This time...

THIS WEEKEND ROUNDED out a busy week for the Todds. Arlean's brother, Henry Jones, his wife and three youngsters, had been visiting in the Todd home. The Jones hail from Oklahoma City, and the families spent most of their time visiting, eating and swimming. THE SHELLEY CARROLL Fund at the Tascosa National Bank is coming along fine. Additional contributions will help and will be greatly appreciated. Shelley will be a freshman this year, and is needing some special equipment. Special equipment for a special young lady.

A GOODLY PORTION of Fort Worth people were visiting in the Bill Hall home this past week. Charles, Bobbie and Mike Hall came to pay their respects, as did Sherrie Hall, daughter of Lucy. Bill's father, Harley and Harley's wife, Katie, came to join in on the barbecue dinner in Palo Duro Canyon, which preceded the showing of "TEXAS," the magnificent performance. The Hall ladies managed to sneak in some shopping before the Fort Worth Halls departed for home. Nice to have these gracious visitors in our midst. Come back.

SOME GENE HOWE territory supporters did themselves proud in a statewide tennis tournament this past week. The Texas Amateur Athletic Federation hosted the tournament in Waco. Alexis Hefley and partner did themselves proud with a blue and gold second place trophy. The girls were playing in the 14 doubles; found themselves with split sets and lost in the third. Participants came from all over Texas, qualifying by winning in their respective districts before they even got to set foot on the courts in Waco. A feather in our girls' cap! Pauline (mother and driver) vicariously participated in her daughter's games. All Pauline got was a first place for her enthusiasm. Prediction: next year, a first place for Alexis and a muffler for Pauline.

SAD NEWS: JANENE and Dean Hawkins are leaving us. The move is precipitated by a job in Fort Worth for Dean. They have located a home in Grapevine, and as soon as all the loose ends are tied up, the family will bid us adieu.

BETTY ZANCHETTIN AND Sylvia Boyer hosted a going-away party in Janene's honor last week at Sylvia's home. Approximately thirty sad but well-wishing friends and neighbors came to enjoy one last together with Janene and presented her with a lovely centerpiece to remember them by.

BECKY HAWKINS WAS treated to a surprise party by several friends. Richard McDonald, Kim Cooper and Sheryl Dees hosted an evening at Scotty Golf in Becky's honor. Joining in for the evening of fun were Gene Tenorio, Mary Beth Carroll, Jay Huey and Roma Johnson. The youngsters presented Becky with a charm bracelet, which she will always cherish.

GENE HOWE YOUNGSTERS and a certain baseball team will miss Kusty, who will be in the fourth grade. Rusty played with Buster Carlisle's third and fourth grade team this summer. Daddy Dean helped coach the team, which won the Sportsmanship Award in its league. This team has garnered this coveted honor for two out of the three years it has been organized! The youngsters were treated to a swimming party in Thompson Park and to a watermelon feast by Kids, Inc.

CHARLIE COX AND Wayne Wallace had an exciting time in Palo Duro Canyon recently. Bill Reynolds took the boys down for an outing. They were joined by Johnny and son John Hicks Saturday afternoon. The group camped out, clamored in and out of every cave they could find, got mired up to the knees in quicksand, and climbed, ran and hollered to their hearts' content.

JOHN HICKS BROUGHT home a prized remembrance of the trip — a twelve inch long lizard tail! (Ugh). He is quite proud of same and will probably turn up at Show and Tell with his treasure.

WHEN SCHOOL STARTS so does club activities. Call with your club news, meetings, programs, and so forth.

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall, and, thank you, Powers-That-Be for Wednesday, August 22, 8:35 o'clock A.M.

Homemaker Keeps Family Happy

By CAROL YOUNG

"I think the most important thing a homemaker should do is to keep her husband and children happy and well, both physically and spiritually," is Maggie Voelm's, featured homemaker of the week, formula for a happy family.

The formula has worked as far as her husband is concerned. G. J., better known as "Whitey," proudly calls his wife "My First Lady." The Voelms have a daughter, 6, Patrika, and a son, Michael, 19, who is in the Navy.

They work together in Mr. Voelm's retirement business, a rock shop and overnight trailer camp on the Hereford Highway. Maggie thinks that Mr. Voelm tired, but seems happier. She is very interested in the wide assortment of rocks available at the shop and has several favorites. China painting, which she attributes her success with to her teacher, is a hobby she has enjoyed, but has decided to go on to newer crafts. Her best piece is a carafe decorated with grapes. Four plates she has done are hanging in her dining room. Her mother also china paints and they painted a whole set of china that is displayed in the Voelm's home.

Maggie's most recent hobby is silversmithing. They cut and polish turquoise and other gem stones in the rock shop, and for consignment, she has mounted rings. Her greatest accomplishment is an Indian style squash blossom necklace that she designed to her own taste. It is lighter and not as ornate as some necklaces. "It's wearable," is Maggie's description, because many squash blossoms are very heavy. Being very modest, she also gives credit for her talent with silversmithing to her teacher in Alamosa, Colo.

Being in the gem stone and

Mrs. Maggie Voelm, featured homemaker of the week holding her favorite rock, Brazilian Agate. The china behind her is a set she and her mother painted together. Her necklace and ring of turquoise and silver, she made herself.

rock business, Maggie is quite knowledgeable on these stones. She related some information concerning Jade. "Ninety per cent of the Jade (green) on the market is coming out of Wyoming, not the Orient. The Jade is shipped to them, because they are very good craftsmen. There are also several other colors of Jade, white, black and pink."

Mrs. Voelm was awarded the Westside Home Demonstration Club's Woman of the Year. She is an active member of the club and feels that "If I'm going to be in a club, I want to work for the club I belong to. I'd rather be able to contribute to my club than just be a name on a list." Maggie is also a delegate to the state convention to be held in Waco in September. She has also served the Randall County Home Demonstration Club Council, the governing body for all demonstration clubs in this county.

The only time Maggie can ever remember getting mad at her husband was during a domino game. It seems that Mr. Voelm was playing very seriously and pulled all the stops on the friend he was playing with. Maggie thought this was rather mean. "I just can't believe that this world is so 'dog eat dog'."

Like so many women this time of the year, Maggie is canning and putting up food for the winter. She grows her own cucumbers for pickles and wants to share her favorite recipe for a curry pickle.

Area Leaders In Theatre Visit 'TEXAS'

Theatre leaders from three states are comparing experiences as the members of the Oklahoma Community Theatre Association tour through the Texas Panhandle and into New Mexico.

Their first stop was at the production of "Texas" by Paul Green. The leader of the group is Bill Crawford, the amusements editor of the Lawton Constitution Press.

In discussing the Palo Duro Canyon production, Crawford mentioned their delight with the show, its fast pace, its fresh quality and the warmth and friendliness of every person they encountered during the evening.

He said that although he had followed the course of the production through the news releases which he had enjoyed using, until he saw it Thursday night, he could not realize the force and impact of the show. This carried particularly, he mentioned, in the Prairie Fire Ballet and in the sound and light developments.

The Oklahomans enjoyed visiting with the people from their state who are connected with the show including Mr. and Mrs. William Angus Moore, the directors who grew up in Oklahoma and attended college there.

In the group are residents of six Oklahoma cities and of Manhattan, Kansas.

The group left Friday morning to go to the 120-year-old theatre in Corrales, N.M. Saturday night will find them at the Santa Fe Opera, hearing a performance of the "Marriage of Figaro."

The production, "Texas" will play through August 25, 1973, nightly except Sunday. For tickets and information, write "Texas," Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015. Please call or write for reservations in advance. Except for Saturdays, tickets for all nights are still available. Telephone number is 806-655-2182.

Curry Pickles

- 8 cups, or 2 1/2 lbs. thinly sliced cucumbers
 - 1 med. onion
 - 1 tbs. salt
 - 2 cups vinegar
 - 1-1/3 cups sugar
 - 2 tsp. mixed pickling spice
 - 1 tsp. celery seed
 - 1 tsp. mustard seed
 - 1/2 tsp. pepper
 - 1 tbs. curry powder
- Place sliced cucumbers and onion in large bowl. Sprinkle with salt; cover with ice water and let stand for about three hours. Drain well. Combine vinegar, sugar, curry powder, pickling spice, celery seed, pepper, and mustard seed in a large kettle; add drained cucumber and onion. Heat just to boiling. Seal hot in sterilized jars. Makes 3 pints.

Maggie is also trying to be an organic farmer. She has planted corn, cucumbers, pumpkins, Cayenne peppers, lettuce, onions, carrots, borage (herb) parsley, strawberries, and tomatoes. She has recycled her garbage to make compost, but had to use peat moss this year. The major problem with the garden being organic, is that Mr. Voelm sprays the bugs when she's not looking.

Another specialty that Maggie makes is Mint Tea. She has grown the mint herself. The way she makes it is to boil water, use a good grade tea in a metal tea "bag," and just before she pours the water over the tea, she drops a small branch of mint in the pot. Then she lets it sit for a few minutes and pours it hot over ice.

Another favorite recipe of Maggie's is for homemade fresh banana ice cream.

- Fresh Banana Ice Cream
 - 4 cups whipping cream
 - 2 cups Half and Half
 - 5 whole eggs
 - 2 cups raw sugar (available at health food store, or if can't get, use dark brown sugar, not granulated)
 - 4 mashed med. size bananas
 - 1/2 - 2 cups milk
- Beat eggs, cream, Half and Half, sugar and bananas together in freezer. Makes one gallon.

The Voelms are members of the Canyon Country Club and the First Christian Church. They usually go swimming every evening. Maggie and Patrika learned to swim together about four years ago and both enjoy it.

Maggie Voelm is a woman who can participate in her husband's business and still have time to be a homemaker, too. Her success at this is noted in her winning the Woman of the Year Award, and being recommended by her club as a Homemaker of the Week.

Single Knit Clothes Choice

For one of today's major looks in fashion, soft and unstructured, the single knit may be a perfect choice of fabric.

But the pattern selection must be made carefully, warns Mrs. Becky Hall, county Extension agent.

The "right" style for single knits will have simple lines, and will be suitable for medium to lightweight fabrics.

Look for gathers or soft draping, so appropriate for soft fabrics.

Avoid such features as A-line skirts, which depend on the firmness of the fabric for shaping.

Check the back of the pattern envelope for the recommended fabrics listed.

If a four-inch wide strip of the knit will stretch crosswise to five inches or more, it is quite stretchy.

In this case, find a pattern designed "for knits only." These patterns are designed with less ease, fewer closures and darts. When made in a stretchable knit, the resulting effect is a satisfying one for the home seamstress, concluded the agent.

Mills Pleased With Workouts

With 72 boys reporting for early season workouts this week, Canyon High School Eagle Coach Ron Mills has a big smile on his face.

"I've never been more pleased with a group of boys," he said Tuesday evening, after two days of two-a-day drills. "I think if the attitude stays like it is and we're free from injuries, we may surprise a lot of people."

That's exactly what Mills hopes to do, after a season of despair last year.

Mills said his charges are "in excellent shape for this time of year," but he noted that his players are not going to be large. They'll be quick he says.

When the players reported for drills on Monday, Mills got a couple of pleasant surprises himself.

Two new players moved into the school district over the summer and they add depth to at least two positions. One is Scott Wilson who Mills says looks good at defensive back and another is Brad Martin, who'll add depth at the running back position.

Mills said several positions on the team are still open as battles rage between players for top seeding.

"We don't now know the starters in five or six positions," he said.

The first intra-squad scrimmage will be from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Monday on the high school field and it will be from that scrimmage that Eagle coaches will make some final decisions on who will play where.

Right now, Mills sees Ed Lair as starting quarterback with Garre LaGrone as backup. LaGrone has the wingback position pretty well tied up for the fall and Gary Bednorz is seen as the stalwart at the tailback position. Mark Jackson is seen as the fullback for the season.

Adrian Foil and Jimmy Ward add depth to the running back slots, Mills said.

In the offensive line, Mills sees the tackles as Tom Grimes and Bob Counsellor. A battle is raging between Kelly Forehand and Doug Day for center position and Bo Bridges and Mark Prichard are battling for one guard slot.

Terry Slagle is seen as the starter in the other guard position.

Mills sees Andy Grimes and Scott Wilson vying for one end and Dennis Collier and Duane Evans vying for the other end.

On defense, Mills sees Steve McCormick as a solid starter at end with Slagle, Kevin McQuiston, Randy Abbott, Ward, LaGrone and Roy Bechtel vying for slots in the backfield.

Tom Grimes and Joe Gillis are battling for the nose guard position and Forehand and Prichard are vying for right tackle. Counsellor is seen as starter at left tackle.

Vying for linebacker positions are Grimes, Day, Wayne Robinson and Bridges.

"We have the best coaches and the best kids we could possibly have," Mills said. "If we don't win this year it'll be because of the competition."

The competition could prove to be tough as the Eagles face the same opponents they faced last fall.

They face several AAAA schools at season's start and then move into district play.

The Eagles meet such threats as Amarillo Caprock, Pampa, Hereford and others on their 1973 schedule.

"If they made us stop like we are and we could avoid injuries, on a given night I wouldn't be afraid to play anybody," Mills said.

The Eagles move into uniforms Friday for workouts. Workouts continue daily through the opening of school.

New Trial Plea Denied For Man

Motion for new trial for David Crawley, sentenced last month to serve a 10 year prison sentence, was denied Tuesday by Dist. Judge E.E. "Gene" Jordan.

Jordan also denied a motion for reduction of bond on Crawley, who was found guilty by a 47th District Court jury of malicious destruction of private property.

Crawley was found guilty of deliberately wrecking a car owned by an Amarillo man.

Registration To Begin Monday

The Canyon Public Schools will open their doors for regular classes on Aug. 22 with a school year to be measured in quarters rather than semesters, and the addition of pre-school children into the newly-implemented kindergartens.

Enrollment and related activities in the elementary schools, junior high and high school will be conducted on Aug. 20 and 21.

All students entering the Canyon public schools for the first time this fall are asked to pre-register before actual enrollment by going to their respective schools between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays between now and Aug. 17.

Stipulations require that all entering students must have had three doses of polio vaccine, one of which must have been administered after the fourth birthday; and three injections of combination diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus (DPT) vaccine, one of which must have been given since the child's fourth birthday.

In addition, students under 12 years of age are required to have had an injection against Rubella (red measles) or a history of the disease, and one dose against Rubella (three-day measles), regardless of whether or not they have a history of the disease, up until the 12th birthday.

These inoculations are provided free of charge at the Bi-City Health Clinic, located at 401 Austin in Amarillo.

Cafeteria tickets at all of the schools may be purchased at the time of registration.

The breakdown of the school year in three-quarters is as follows: First Quarter — Aug. 22-Nov. 16. Second Quarter — Nov. 17-Feb. 28. Third Quarter — March 4-May 31.

School holidays are as follows: Sept. 3 — Labor Day. Nov. 9 — District Teachers Association meeting. Student holiday.

Nov. 22-23 — Thanksgiving. Dec. 21-Jan. 6 — Christmas holidays.

Feb. 4 — Teacher In-Service day. Student holiday.

March 1 — Teacher In-Service.

Student holiday.

April 6-15 — Easter vacation. May 31 — End of school. The enrollment schedule and related activities for the schools is as follows:

Rex Reeves and Gene Howe Elementary Schools

Those students with surnames beginning in A-K will register between 8:30 a.m. and noon on Aug. 20. Those with last names beginning in L-Z will enroll between 1:30 and 4 p.m. on that day.

Those children between the ages of 5.0 and 6.0 who have not pre-registered for kindergarten are asked to do so before Aug. 17. Parents may bring their children to school between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays through Aug. 17 for pre-registration. Birth certificates for students in kindergarten should be presented at that time, as state law requires.

Kindergartners will be enrolled according to the same schedule as that for elementary school pupils. Both kindergarten and elementary-age students should be accompanied to registration by a parent or legal guardian.

Two kindergartens will be conducted in each school, one from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and another from 12:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Insofar as possible, a spokesman said, parents may choose which session their children will attend. Class assignments will be made on Monday, Aug. 20.

Junior High School

Registration for seventh graders will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. Monday, Aug. 20 in the school cafeteria. Eighth graders will register from 1 to 3:30 p.m. on that day. Ninth grade registration will be conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 21.

Male students are advised of a change in uniform colors for physical education classes. Seventh grade students will now wear red uniforms, eighth grade students, green uniforms, and ninth graders will suit out in blue uniforms. Local merchants now have the regulation suits in stock. Girls will continue to wear white uniforms.

Seniors will register from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and juniors from 1-4 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 20. Registration for sophomores is slated from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 21.

Members of the senior class are asked to return to the school between 8:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 21, to have pictures made. Dress clothes should be worn, a spokesman said. Senior photographs are again being handled by Marquis of Oklahoma City.

Fees payable at the time of enrollment are as follows:

Registration for the fall term at West Texas State University is only two weeks away.

Registration activities begin Aug. 31, but even before then, students will be pouring onto campus for the opening of the regular session.

University residence halls open on Aug. 28, and the faculty is scheduled to meet at 9 a.m. that day in the Fine Arts Building.

Officials have said reservations for residence hall rooms

City Men Hospitalized After Freak Accident

Carlton Patterson of 411 Seventh Avenue remains in High Plains Baptist Hospital after undergoing knee surgery for an injury he received last Saturday in a freak accident in which he was struck by a tractor.

The accident occurred during a garage sale that Patterson was having at his unoccupied residence located at 510 Fourth Avenue.

The tractor, driven by George Hand, was moving west on Fourth Avenue. While attempting to negotiate its way between parked cars on both sides of Fourth Avenue, the tractor veered to the left. As it did, an A.L. lister attachment on the back of the tractor swung around, striking Patterson, who was attempting to close the gate of a picket fence in his front yard, was thrown four feet in the air, and over the picket fence, with his back striking one of the pickets as he fell.

Patterson suffered multiple bruises, torn ligaments, and a chipped knee cap.

He is an employee with the Texas Highway Department and was recently installed as Worshipful Master of the Canyon City Lodge.

have blossomed again this year and it appears the dormitories will be filled.

Beginning freshmen will be the busiest during the days before registration actually begins. The American College Testing Program will administer a test to beginning freshmen who have not taken the test on Aug. 29 in room 201 of the university complex south.

Beginning freshmen who did not attend one of the two summer orientation programs will meet at 1:30 p.m. that day in the activities center.

Registration begins Friday and continues through Saturday. Freshmen and seniors will register at the activities center on Friday morning and sophomores, juniors and graduate students will register Friday afternoon and Saturday. Evening-only students and late arrivals will register Saturday also.

Classes for the fall term begin on Sept. 3. Mid-semester for the fall term will be Oct. 27. The term ends Dec. 20 with final exams.

University officials have declined to speculate on the number of students WTSU will have for the fall term. Last fall, the number was just above the 6500 figure. WTSU enrollment was at a high of nearly 8000 in 1969.

Census Survey To Eye Jobless

The U.S. Bureau of the Census will conduct its regular monthly survey in the Canyon area next week on employment and unemployment.

Local households in the survey are part of the 50,000 homes across the country which have been selected to represent a cross-section of all households.

The survey is taken by the census bureau for the Department of Labor. It provides monthly information on conditions in labor force, a prime indicator of the economic health of the nation.

Results of the June survey showed the unemployment rate at 4.8 per cent. Employment rose substantially to a seasonally adjusted level of 84.7 million.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is confidential and results are used only to compile statistical totals.
